The success of Away Chiang Mai Thapae Resort is largely owed to the vision of owner Mr. Vipon Kwatra. As a second generation Thai-Indian, Mr. Vipon and his family had harboured the dream of owning a hotel for many years and has chosen this particular city to build his resort. Inspired from a meat-free and alcohol-free tradition, Mr. Vipon came in pursuit of a philosophy for 'zero-profits' on the meat and alcohol trade within the resort property. This philosophy has ignited Away Chiang Mai Thapae Resort to be Thailand's leading Vegan Retreat.

"The resort is conveniently located within a serene area, yet in the heart of the city. It is the location itself that aspire me to build a city-escape. Away Chiang Mai Thapae is proud to meet the all criterias of the world's largest hotel association for purely vegan hotels VeggieHotels and fully commit to a vegan kitchen to play a vital role in the community of ethical, healthy, and sustainable lifestyle ," said Mr. Vipon happily.

To further embrace and endorse good living, 'Moreganic Restaurant' became a much-loved fixture within the resort that comes with a healthy dining culture. Serving an array of western and Thai selections, Mr. Vipon and his team had carefully constructed an innovative fusion menu using the finest and freshest local ingredients to masters the blends of the flavours. Main signatures such as 'Moreganic Massaman' and 'Khao Soi Moreganic' are fun to pronounce. There are varieties of organic vegetable dishes to select from the Chiang Mai's renowned The Royal Farm Project. In alignment with the Buddhist values, the restaurant practices the abstinence of meat and alcohol. However, each plate is prepared so delightfully delicious that it calms the mind, soothes the soul, and tantalizes the taste buds!

Away Chiang Mai Thapae Resort's Moreganic Restaurant is not only renowned for its delicious vegan dishes- but the details immersed within the decoration.

It is the location, philosophy, and distinctive design that made Away Chiang Mai Thapae Resort a favorite among local and foreign travelers seeking an authentic vegan retreat or a 'generally cleansing' experience. Discover Chiang Mai differently on your next trip. Welcome to the new trend of Veggie fun.
